Test, Report, Debrief, Action Plan, Coach

#	Title	Focus of the tool
1	Personal Behaviour Profile	There are many things you do in life dictated by your personality. Free will succumbs to your personality. When you understand the deeper urges inside you that drive your behaviour, your response to stimuli from the world, you feel enabled. It allows you to plan & strategise better, enhances your control over your behaviour. This instrument uses the William Marston's model to give you an accurate & insightful understanding of Who you are, Why you behave the way you do?
2	Personal Attitudes Profile	Attitudes are deeply held beliefs that guide our choices while responding to stimuli in our daily lives. Therefore they have a deep impact on our performance at work or home. Particularly of interest is the way we own our responsibility (Locus of Control) and the way we tend to collaborate with others (Arena in the Johari Window). This tool measures effectively both the aspects of our attitudes and provides actionable feedback.
3	Personal Leadership Profile	In the Hersey & Blanchard Situational Leadership Model the four typical leadership styles – Telling, Coaching, Selling & Delegating – are described. This tool provides you a clear idea of which of these are your preferred styles, how flexible you are in using the four and most importantly how effective are you in diagnosing the right style for the situation. There is actionable feedback on all the three aspects.
4	Personal Listening Profile	Listening is one of the most crucial skills to be successful in the workplace. We typically use five distinct approaches to listening. Appreciative & Empathic are feeling led approaches and Comprehensive, Discerning & Evaluative or fact-led approaches. There are three aspects to listening – how intentionally you listen to understand, how flexibly you listen to communicate and how effectively you are able to make the right listening style choice. This tool provides an accurate measure of all three aspects and actionable feedback.
5	Managerial Effectiveness Profile	Managerial effectiveness involves Five key competencies – Providing Role Clarity, Monitoring Performance, Providing Feedback, Developing People, Managing Engagement. This tool provides an accurate measure of all these aspects and actionable feedback.
6	Personal Stress Management Profile	Stress is an important factor in performance. Too much or too little – it impacts performance both ways. Dr.Olsen's model provides tremendous clarity about the connection between Stress, Coping Resources & Satisfaction. This tool provides an accurate measure of the stress you are experiencing, your satisfaction levels and how much coping resources you may have across Personal, Work, Couple & Family dimensions of your life. The report provides insights, problem areas and advice on how to improve yourself.
7	Personal Learning Style Profile	David Kolb's model proposes four ways in which people learn. Understanding their preferred style of learning may help them make appropriate choices of learning. Here are the four Diverging- These individuals see things from different perspectives and can use their imagination to show creativity in their learning styles. People with a diverging style, prefer to watch rather than do and their learning characteristic is reflective observation and concrete experience. Assimilating – They can analyze and explore learning styles model well. More than the people, they show interest in technical tasks with a logical format and conceptual framework. Their main characteristics mostly include reflective observation and abstract conceptualization. Converging – They are efficient problem-solvers and are considered as being practical in their analytic approach to tasks and ideas. They are likely to converge on their desired answers and are characterized by active experimentation and abstract conceptualization. Accommodating – They are more likely to be more practical in their learning experience and they mostly view problems from an intuitive perspective. These people may depend a lot on their gut feeling. They are fond of new-found challenges and are mostly characterized by active experimentation and concrete learning.
8	Career Potential Assessment	A person's fitment into a Career or Professional Roles largely derives from his/her personality & multiple intelligences level. This tool provides guidance to an individual on what kind of roles or careers might be a good fitment.
